DNG NEWS RELEASES

Our featured company is a dividend-paying industrial gold ore processor headquartered in Montreal, Canada. The corporation is engaged in gold production through the processing of ore purchased from the ASM (artisanal and small-scale mining) industry. At present, Dynacor operates in Peru, where its management and processing teams have decades of experience working with ASM miners. It also owns a gold exploration property (Tumipampa) in the Apurimac department.

Q1-2022 Highlights

Operational

- Higher volume processed. 36,696 tonnes of ore (408 tpd average) compared to 29,327 tonnes in Q1-2021 (326 tpd), a 25.1% increase;
- Higher gold production. In Q1-2022, gold equivalent production amounted to 27,691 AuEq ounces compared to 21,975 AuEq ounces in Q1-2021, a 26.0% increase.

Financial

- Solid cash position. $25.7 million;
- Earnings per share. $5.1 million ($0.13 or C$0.16 per share);
- Sales. $50.1 million.

Cash Return to Shareholders

- Share buy-back. 285,836 common shares repurchased for $0.7 million (C$ 0.9 million);
- Increased dividends. A 25% monthly dividend increase is paid since January 2022. On an annual basis, the 2022 dividend will represent CA$0.10 per share or more than 3% dividend yield based on the beginning of 2022 share price.

ARGENTINA LITHIUM & ENERGY

Argentina Lithium & Energy believes that the combination of high geologic potential and a promising demand climate have set the conditions for delineating and advancing new lithium resources in Argentina. The Company's management group has a long history of success in the resource sector of Argentina and a strong track record of government and community relations.

Four under-explored projects in the heart of the Lithium Triangle in Argentina.

Brine mapping and drilling planned for 2022.

- ~57,000 hectares of claims on four salars in the Lithium Triangle.
- Projects strategically located in pro-mining provinces Salta and Catamarca, near key infrastructure with year-round access.
- Aggressive new exploration programs in 2022 and continued evaluation of new prospects.

Projects

Rincon West

- 2,491 ha under option; 460.5 ha 100%-held
- Adjacent to Rincon Ltd. and Argosy Minerals lithium projects with proven reserves
- Excellent infrastructure including international highway, electric power corridor
- First drill program, 5 holes, underway
- 1st hole results positive: intersected a 70m permeable interval with 225 to 380mg/L Lithium

Pocitos

- +26,000 hectares under option
- Excellent infrastructure: International railway to Pacific ports crosses the property; Provincial highway and major gas pipeline nearby
- Limited historic exploration

Antofalla North

- 9,080 hectares of 100% held claims + nearly 6,000 hectares under option
- Major lithium producer Albemarle has large holdings starting 500m to the south
- Geophysical survey identified high-conductivity targets in upper 100 metres, additional targets at depth

Incahuasi

- 100% interest in over 25,000 hectares
- Located north of Lake Resources' Kachi Project
- Maximum values 409 mg/L lithium and 1.56% potassium recovered in near-surface sampling (to 8m depth)
- 4 drill-holes confirmed lithium-bearing brines (average to date 109 mg/L Li, 6718 mg/L K)

Exploring the Prolific Lithium Triangle

- Lithium Triangle produces ~1/2 of the world's lithium
- Hosts ~60% of known lithium reserves
- Most lithium is in salt lake ("salar") brines
- Argentina produces ~10% of the world's lithium and is a top-5 global producer (2020)
- In close proximity to rail, water, roads and power
- Argentine government is encouraging foreign investment and renewable energy initiatives

HOW TO WIN THE GAME OF TRADING: 6 LESSONS I LEARNED DURING 30 YEARS OF TRIAL AND ERROR

BY: STEVE BURNS NEWTRADERU.COM
AUGUST 6TH, 2022

Most studies show that 90% of traders and investors don't make money over the long-term. The majority of traders, even if they get lucky and profitable early just give back those gains over time.

Even buy and hold investors can become shaken out of their long-term plans to not sell when a vicious bear market takes back years of gains. 80% of traders also tend to just quit altogether during their first two years of learning lessons the hard way. Most traders don't really fail they just quit too early and never even to the work required to even try to be successful.

Just like in sports there are many professional traders that built wealth in the markets through their skill set. Billionaire and millionaire traders are well documented, audited and revealed in many books. To say it's impossible to make money trading is ignorant, much like saying there is no way to make money playing professional sports. However, the divide between amateurs and professionals is very wide and takes years of hard work to bridge the gap and achieve success. To be a profitable trader you must take money from unprofitable traders, you must win the game.

Here are six of the key lessons I have learned the hard way in the stock market over the past 30 years through the experience of trial and error. Big wins along with big losses have been my best teachers.

1. Trends can go a lot farther than anyone expects.

Overbought and oversold readings like the Relative Strength Index and Bollinger Bands are great for range bound markets but once a strong move is underway and breaks through the extreme readings of these indicators a trend can keep going.

While these massive trends only happen about 15% of the time in the markets and on charts getting on the wrong side of one of these without a stop loss is what creates huge losses. Being on the right side of one of these moves and letting the trade run is the primary way to create huge wins.

Key lesson: No chart has to reverse at any level, it can keep going. At least wait for a reversal first if you want to be a contrarian on a move.

2. You can trade with only a few technical indicators.

You only need a few indicators on your chart to make money. Many traders make money using price action alone for their trading signals and most successful traders don't use more than three indicators.

The goal in trading is just to define your risk/reward ratio and signal your entry and exit. You don't need too many indicators to do this. More indicators generally just leads to confusion. In trading less is more, focus on the trend, momentum, and turning points on a chart, that is all you need.

3. Demo trading and backtesting are not the same as trading real money.

New traders are very surprised with the emotions and ego that arise when they go from research and simulation to putting real capital at risk. Risking real money, losing real money, and making money is not the same as learning how to trade.

4. Losing money is the tuition you pay to learn lessons.

Nothing is more educational to a new trader than losing money. It is unpreventable and just part of the cost of doing business. If you lose money from not having an edge, not following your plan, or trading too big then it is crucial that you learn the lesson the first time and not make the same mistake again.

Your ability to learn, not repeat mistakes, and follow a trading system with an edge determines your long term success, not trying to be perfect. Perfection is impossible, learning is a requirement. The longer it takes to learn a lesson the more expensive it will be.

5. Trade a system that fits your personality and beliefs about the market.

Your trading system must have an edge to create profitability but it must also fit your own personality and belief system.

Your system must align with your risk tolerance, available screen time, and return goals. If you are trying to be a day trader on your phone at your job you are doomed to failure. If you love active trading but try to be a buy and hold investor you likely will fail with the hands off approach.

You must love your strategy and its execution to be able to follow it. It must fit your own appetite for activity, risk, and returns to work out over the long-term. You must understand the edge through historical chart studies, backtesting, and experience to stick to it through losing streaks and drawdowns. You must have faith in your system and faith in your ability to execute it with discipline. Trading is not for the double-minded.

6. Risk management is the #1 priority, making money is #2.

New traders are too eager to make money with little if any regard to risk management. A trader should start with proper position sizing, stop loss placement, and win-rate expectations. The management of losing streaks and drawdowns will determine profitability more than winning streaks or making great calls. Few understand this and this is why so few are profitable in trading.

The core of profitable trading is risk management, without it nothing else matters as long-term the first losing streak destroys all previous profits. Not managing for the risk or ruin ensures eventual ruin for any trader who doesn't respect the risks in the markets.

I believe these six trading rules should be a part of every trader's system. They are expensive lessons to learn the hard way.

SHOOTING STAR CANDLESTICK PATTERN

THE SHOOTING STAR IS INTERPRETED AS A TYPE OF REJECTION CANDLE.

THE LONG WICK OF THE CANDLESTICK PATTERN INDICATES THAT BUYERS DROVE THE PRICE UP, BUT SELLERS ENTERED THE MARKET AGGRESSIVELY AND CAUSED THE PRICE TO STRONGLY REJECT.

AS THIS OCCURRED IN AN UPTREND, THE SELLING PRESSURE CAN BE SEEN AS A POTENTIAL REVERSAL SIGN. MAKE SURE THERE IS A SUPPLY ZONE ON THE LEFT.

EVENING STAR CANDLESTICK PATTERN

AN EVENING STAR IS A CHART PATTERN USED BY TECHNICAL ANALYSTS TO DETECT WHEN A TRADE IS ABOUT TO REVERSE. IT IS A BEARISH CANDLESTICK PATTERN CONSISTING OF THREE CANDLES: A LARGE CANDLESTICK PATTERN CONSISTING OF THREE CANDLES: A LARGE WHITE CANDLESTICK, A SMALL-BODIED CANDLE, AND A RED CANDLE.

We tend to overcomplicate stuff.

The moment we forget about simplicity - we make mistakes.

Therefore, constantly ask yourself:

"Am I keeping it Simple?"

In trading, simplicity is key to being systematic and consistent.

EDITOR'S
WATCHLIST

Colonial Coal (CAD TSX-V) closed at $1.42 on Friday. The company is for sale and therefore unless there is a material change, we have no news. It is a very difficult stock to hold at times. The stock has been sliding ever since the spike to $3.73 a year ago.

This Wednesday there will be another webinar. Will we hear anything new? Will the CEO, David Austin, be able to say anything that we don't already know? Who was behind the big spike to $3.73 last October?

On October 5th, Rosseau Asset Management added 50,000 shares at $1.47 which brings their total to 26,306,015 shares.

October 4th: CEO Interview

Fury Gold Mines (FURY TSX) closed at .54 on Friday. On October 3rd the company announced that they were selling 17 million Dollar Varden (DV TSX-V) shares at .40 per share, raising $6.8 Million for Fury.

From the news:

“Fury approached Dolly Varden about the sale of a portion of its Common Shares as a way for Fury to finance continued exploration at the Eau Claire and Eleonore South Joint Venture projects in Quebec and for general working capital. Following completion of the Transaction, Fury will continue to hold approximately 26% of the Common Shares and will be well capitalized for its upcoming exploration activities. While Dolly Varden will receive no proceeds from the Transaction, the company is pleased to be welcoming a new financial institutional investor.”

Have a look at the CEO interview on Mining Stock Education.

Fury raised $11 million at .80 last April. Now In a tough gold market, Fury has found a way to raise even more to keep their drill rigs going. Lots of news to come.
